

National Union of Bank Employees Receives WODP Training Grant

The National Union of Bank Employees (NUBE) received a training grant through the Bureau of Labor Relations' Workers' Organization Development Program (WODP). The grant shall be utilized for their training entitled "Utilizing Theory of Change as a Tool in Strategic Planning" as part of the capacity building program for the officers and members of NUBE.

The training intends to draw a clear picture of organizational purpose, a strong sense of organizational needs, a greater capacity for analysis, and a blueprint for evaluation using the Theory of Change.

The use of the Theory of Change in the Strategic Planning process will enable NUBE to formulate a Strategic Plan that is concrete, realistic and achievable.

Mr. Jesus Exequiel Nidea, NUBE National President, extended gratitude to BLR for the release of the WODP training grant.

NUBE is the only legitimate National Union of Bank Employees registered with the Department of Labor and Employment, under the "one industry, one union" concept..

Workers capability development is a component of the WODP, under which assistance and support, through training grants, are extended to qualified workers' organization to enhance competency and skills in the management of their organization.
